Stallion share - Siyouni

Siyouni: The Crown Jewel of French Stallions

With 100 wins by his progeny in 2024, Siyouni continues to reign as the leading sire in France. Investing in a share of Siyouni means aligning yourself with the pinnacle of French and international breeding. His offspring, including rising stars Zarigana and Mount Kilimanjaro, are expected to shine in 2025. With over 80 stakes winners, including multiple Group 1 and Classic champions, Siyouni has established a record of consistency that drives auction prices into the millions. For 2025, his stud fee has been set at €200,000, making him a remarkable investment.

Stallion Prospect – King Gold

King Gold: A Bet on the Future

Strength, speed, durability, and success – King Gold holds all the aces. This 7-year-old son of Anodin has consistently performed from the age of two and shows no signs of slowing down. Offered with an invitation to the Dubai World Cup Carnival, he is a proven international campaigner. His trainer, Nicolas Caullery, has expertly managed his career and envisions him in the Al Fahidi Fort (Gr.2) on January 22 or competing in the Ras Al Khor (Gr.3) on March 7, a race won last year by his stablemate Fort Payne.

“King Gold has been invited to Dubai, where he performed brilliantly last year on both turf and dirt,” trainer Nicolas Caullery explains. “He remains eager and has plenty of sporting opportunities ahead of him. His optimal distances are between 1300m and 1700m. At 7 years old, he is still sound and adaptable, excelling across distances, tracks, and surfaces. He even won a Group 3 this year. Breeding a future generation inheriting his qualities would be a dream for any breeder – he’s such an easy horse to train.”
